Transitional Housing and Programs for Veterans in Vermont

We offer a Hand Up, Not a Hand-Out

2019 ANNUAL PROGRESS / HIGHLIGHTS REPORT

Since opening its doors in September 2009, the Veterans' Place, Inc., has touched the lives of more than 300 homeless area veterans in need of a chance for change. Through our transitional housing and support programs, we have successfully transitioned 73% of our residents.

We greatly appreciate the generous support of our donors, sponsors, friends, volunteers, and community partners, without whom we could not do what we do.

A Letter from the President: Overcoming Adversity

As I write this, the world as we know it has changed dramatically, and with it, so have we. Overcoming adversity is nothing new to our veterans, nor is it a stranger to the Veterans' Place. The year 2019 ushered in its share of challenges, including turnover in staff, changes in leadership, and the untimely passing of one of our youngest residents from an accidental drug overdose. But through it all, we stayed the course, strengthened our resolve, and emerged even more stable and robust as a result.

The ability to keep going when the going gets tough is a characteristic shared by our residents. On the opposite page, you can read about some of their successes, penned in their own words. As these men can tell you, they are where they are today in no small part because of you.

If you are reading this, you are a valued friend, a loyal donor, a dedicated volunteer, a committed community partner, a hardworking public servant, or an indispensable sponsor of the Veterans' Place. This report is for all of you, with heartfelt gratitude for all you do to improve the lives of Vermont's homeless vets.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, our residents, and our staff, THANK YOU.

Yours in Service,

Dr. Michael J. Krause, Ph.D.
Colonel, United States Army, Retired
President, TVPI Board of Directors

Our Mission

The Veterans' Place, Inc. (TVPI) is a community-based, non-profit, 22-bed and substance-free transitional housing program located in Central Vermont, dedicated to reducing Vermont's homeless Veterans population. TVPI provides secure and sober housing, along with supportive services and programs, to homeless veterans for up to two years.

TVPI works in conjunction with the Veterans Medical Facility in White River Junction, along with other Veterans facilities and state agencies around Vermont in a coordinated effort to offer affordable housing, nutritious meals, substance abuse treatment and mental health treatment, along with employment and volunteer placement assistance, among other supportive services.

“We don't know them all, but we OWE them all.”

—author unknown

On the battlefield, the military pledges to leave no soldier behind. As a nation, let it be our pledge that when they return home, we leave no veteran behind.

Veteran Testimonials

“I am one of a number of veterans residing at the Veterans’ Place, Inc. In reflecting on my year I continue to be amazed at the amount of support I have received in a very short period of time: clothing, daily meals, and shelter, to list a few. If you would have told me a year ago that I would be on my way to renting an apartment, saving money for a car, and/or securing a stable job, I would have told you it was impossible. Veterans’ Place, Inc. has in no small way made all of this possible and I am eternally grateful to the staff and those who have donated to make it possible. Thank You!”

—Harry Olin Simpson, current resident

“After several years of a walkabout initiated by financial disaster and subsequent domestic dissolution (fancy phrase for divorce), I found myself in Vermont camped outside Brattleboro. Enrollment with the VA led to being persuaded to apply to the Veterans’ Place. I was skeptical that this was going to be of any value, but as I became more familiar with the Village and the opportunity afforded me to settle amongst people I could relate to, it was a very good decision. Veterans’ Place was the springboard for finding a home, good job and friends. I will be eternally grateful.”

—James Savanna, former resident

“Having arrived at Veterans’ Place in February 2018, I was greeted by a very friendly staff that had my interests as their goal. Upon arrival I was asked to write a Goals Plan on which to base my stay. In July 2018 I was admitted to WRJ VAMC for surgery. After my recovery I was greeted back at TVPI in August. At that point the staff assisted me in applying for SSDI. In December I was awarded 100% disability, thus completing another of my goals. From August 2018 to June 2019 I dedicated my time to finding suitable housing to meet my medical needs along with giving back to TVPI as best as I could. I strongly support the TVPI’s mission and their excellent assistance for the Veterans fortunate enough to come through the front doors and leave a better person afterwards.”

—Tom Wright, newly transitioned resident

A hero is an ordinary individual who finds the strength to persevere and endure in spite of overwhelming obstacles.

—Christopher Reeve

On Veterans' Day weekend in 2019, Vermont country singer Jamie Lee Thurston (JLT) performed a special benefit concert at Norwich University to raise funds for the Veterans' Place.

Right: Middle-schoolers peel potatoes for Thanksgiving Dinner.

Activities such as fly-tying, fundraisers such as concerts and motorcycle rides, and celebrations such as holiday dinners, not only make the community aware of our residents' needs, but also serve to connect TVPI residents with their community.

Norwich University and the Veterans' Place: a match made in the military

One of Norwich University's guiding values is "Service to Nation and others before self." This credo explains why, several times a year, students enrolled at the nation's oldest private military school volunteer their time to participate in activities that directly benefit the residents of the Veterans' Place.

From socializing and playing games to helping with meals, ground maintenance, and small housekeeping tasks, students and veterans get to know each other and share stories. But the real fun begins when students organize holiday dinners and fundraising events, such as the annual Legacy March.

The year 2019 marked the tenth anniversary of the 3-day, 50-mile hike from Norwich, Vt., to Northfield. Held every fall during peak foliage season, upwards of 50 cadets suffer blisters, sore feet, and sleeping on hard floors for a worthy cause.

Their efforts pay high dividends. Last year the march and follow-up JLT concert raised in excess of $18,000.

Cadet Eli Hollingsworth, an organizer of last year's event, believes he has an obligation to help those who came before. "Whether through the money we raise, or just playing cards on a Thursday night, I believe that we, as the next generation of Norwich cadets, will continue to support the Veterans' Place in any capacity we can as the world changes around us."

Meet Our Board of Directors and Staff!

Michael J. Krause, President

A retired Army colonel, university instructor, and founder of a company that provides management services, security consultation, professional training and leadership development, Michael has been a Northfield resident since graduating from Norwich in 1964. He says, "I want to be able to help homeless veterans here in Vermont gain a vision for their future as long as I am able to serve."

BG Greg Knight, Vice President

Currently the Vermont National Guard adjutant general, Greg has enjoyed a long and distinguished career, with service in the US Coast Guard, as a Vermont police officer, and in the VT Air and Army National Guards, including deployment to Iraq. He joined the board because "many spend a lot of time talking about what should be done to support Veterans—I believe doing is greater than talking."

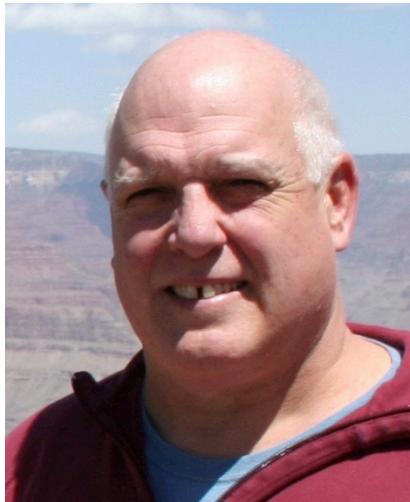

Diana Weggler, Secretary

A wife and mother of four grown children, Diana has been writing professionally since the early 1990s, most recently as the senior writer and editor for Norwich University. She joined TVPI's board so as to try and make a difference. "My only goal in life is to leverage my knowledge, skills, creativity, resources, and compassion to try and make the world a better place."

Thomas Longfellow, Treasurer

A 1994 West Point grad, Tom served five years of active duty in field artillery before entering the field of securities compliance. Having also served in the Vermont Army National Guard, Tom now works at National Life Group in Montpelier. The Barre resident says volunteering for the Veterans' Place, "gives me the opportunity to a part of, and, hopefully contribute to, a worthy cause."

Stephen Martin, Board Member

A 1972 graduate of Norwich University and longtime resident of Northfield, Steve entered public education as a Secondary Math teacher. He retired in 2012 after teaching in the Northfield School system for 35 years. Steve says, "I joined the Veterans' Place Board of Directors in hopes to share my teaching skills in organization and management."

Gordon Perkinson, Board Member

Raised in Virginia, Gordon served in the Coast Guard before attending college in Texas. Following a period of addiction and homelessness, he became a certified Drug & Alcohol Abuse Counselor. Sober for 49 years, he and his certified therapy Goldendoodle rescue, Sophie, visit the VA Hospital and the Veterans' Place regularly. "We speak to our veterans with the voice of experience, compassion and love."

Paul Capcara, Board Member

Currently the clinical director at Collaborative Solutions in Montpelier, Paul has spent his career working with disadvantaged populations. A former Peace Corps volunteer with degrees in both nursing and public health, he volunteers at the People’s Health and Wellness Clinic in Barre and on the board of SafeArt. “I am passionate about working with people who have experienced trauma, mental health challenges, or who are suffering.”

Bill Gaidys, Board Member

Raised on a local family farm, Bill Gaidys has donated his time and the family beef to raise awareness and funds for the Vet Place. A veteran of the US Navy, he has traveled the US as a five-star chef on both coasts, and is committed to assisting in the Vets’ Place kitchen as needed. Bill says, “I enjoy using my capabilities in the culinary arts, wood-crafting, and as an arborist, farmer, and dog trainer, to give back to the military community.

Brian “Pete” Clark, Dinner Chef

Born and raised in Massachusetts, Pete was educated at Seekonk High School and Wentworth Institute in Boston. He joined the staff of the Veterans Place in 2018, bringing a wealth of experience to the job. Pete has prepared food at such diverse establishments as the Wannamoisett Country Club in Rhode Island, the Rose & Crown Restaurant on Nantucket, and the Northfield Senior Center.

Karen Boyce, Managing Director

Educated at Montpelier High School and VTC, Karen was woodworker for 20 years. She joined the Veterans’ Place staff when it opened its doors in 2009, serving as administrative manager and dinner cook. In 2020 she was promoted from finance and administrative manager to managing director. As the mother of two sons, both of who served in the War on Terrorism, she is passionate about serving the veteran community.

Richard Turner, Housing Specialist

Prior to joining the Veterans’ Place Staff in June of 2020, Rich enjoyed long and productive military careers with the Army and Air Force, in civil aviation, and as a forester and arborist. Educated at Norwich, he holds a BA in Government/Political Science and an Associate of Science in Criminal Justice. His most recent job was as a Team Leader and Recovery Support Specialist at a Level III Recovery Residence.

With over 45 years in the construction/building industry, he has been self employed for the last 15 years and has worked on some important projects, including renovations to Stratton VA hospital in Albany, and the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Sharon. Innovative and resourceful, Mike has initiated several cost-effective measures at the facility. He and his large family reside in Williamstown.
